Once upon a time, there was a flock of doves that flew in search of food led by their king. One day, they had flown a (36) _____ distance and were very tired. The dove king encouraged them to fly a little further. One of the (37) _____ picked up speed and found some rice grains scattered near a banyan tree. So, all the doves landed and began to eat.

Suddenly, a net fell over them and they were all (38) _____. They saw a hunter approaching them and he was carrying a huge club. The doves desperately fluttered their (39) _____ to try and get out, but to no avail.

The dove king had an idea. He advised all the doves to fly up together carrying the (40) _____ with them. He said that there was strength in unity. Each dove picked up a portion of the net and together they flew off carrying the net with them. The hunter looked up in astonishment.

SECTION H : COMPREHENSION OPEN-ENDED (10 marks)

Read the passage below and answer questions 41 to 45.

A visit to the Akshaya Patra Centre reveals the passion that goes into preparing meals for 8700 school children in the area. At 5 a.m., the cooks wake up and put on their uniforms. Over the next five hours, large amounts of rice and curry are prepared.

In a neat but dilapidated classroom in India, Krishna and Manju sit cross-legged with their friends. As the clock strikes twelve, there is a sparkle in Krishna's eyes. When the form teacher gives the signal, all 158 pupils joyfully rush out of their classrooms to collect their stainless steel plates. The rich aroma of curry wafts through the air.

They sit along the corridors, chatting away as they wait to be served. The teachers and cooks bring out the rice and curry for the pupils. These pupils benefit from India's Mid-Day Meal Scheme as they are not well-fed at home. By serving meals in school, the government hopes more families would begin to send their children to school. In turn, more children are able to go to school.
