Bernice was reading a book when her sister, Claire, said she could not find her bear. Bernice decided to play the role of a detective. She wanted to solve the mystery of the missing bear. Claire pointed at Dad's chair, saying she left her bear there. Bernice and Claire looked under the chair and behind it. There was no bear.

Just then, they noticed their dog, Chomps, taking a sock from under the chair. It then ran off with the sock. Bernice wondered if Chomps had taken the bear. She followed Chomps to its basket. Bernice looked in the basket. She saw a sock, a ball and a toy rabbit belonging to her younger brother, Dan, but there was no bear.

She picked up the toy rabbit and gave it to Dan. He put it on his bed. Suddenly, Bernice spotted something strange about Dan's blanket. She asked politely if she could look under it. She lifted the blanket and found Claire's bear! Mystery solved! Claire told Dan to ask for permission if he wanted to play with the bear.
